Those who have ued Salt on light, sandy or worn-out soils are almost unanimous in the opinion that it is the cheapest and best fertlizer that they can use on this kind of land, especially for oats. The application of from 600 lbs. to 1000 lbs. per acreir said to more than double the crop. Saltis also excellent as a weed killer. The Vermont Experiment Station especially recommends it for killing Paint Brush on grass land. C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt, sells a very desirable Salt for fertilizing purposes, put up in cheap 100 pound sacks, for the very low price of $3.50 per ton, free on board cars at Hyde Park This price is considerably less than that for which ordinary Salt can be lought and his Salt contains considerable matter that adds to its fertilizing vaue. The freight rates to points between Lunenburg and Swanton and Newport and White River Jct., are very low on this material especially in 12 ton lots. Wrte for full particulars.
